Chasing the Hippopotamus in Detroit River.

[From the Detroit "Free Press" of June 23d.]

A very exciting as well as novel affair occurred about six miles down the river, on Monday afternoon, being no less than a veritable chase of a hippopotamus. It seems that in the transit of the circus now performing here from Buffalo to this city, it became necessary, on account of their excessive weight, to send the elephants and the hippopotamus on a propeller, and they were accordingly shipped on board the S. D. Caldwell. On Monday afternoon, as the steamer was nearing this port, a scene of great excitement occurred, which nearly resulted in the escape of the huge behemoth or hippopotamus, belonging to G. C. Quick, and at present forming one of the attractions of G. F. Bailey's quadruple circus. The huge beast was shipped from Buffalo on board the steamer S. D. Caldwell, and as it was impossible to get his immense cage on board, that was sent by land, while his Behemothship, accompanied by Ali, the Egyptian, his captor and keeper, proceeded by water to Detroit. During the voyage it was noticed that the animal continually looked longingly toward the water, as though he would have given one of his cyceteth (no trifle, by the way) for a plunge into the depths of the lake and ramble about its unexplored bottom. No one supposed, and so no extra watch was set upon him.

As the steamer neared the city, and when three miles below the Fort, and as Ali and everybody else were gazing landward, a crash and then a splash were heard from the side of the bow towards the American shore. Everybody rushed to the spot. The place where the hippopotamus had been confined was empty. The truth became instantly apparent. The beast, no longer able to resist the temptation, had burst his bonds and plunged into the river, resolved on an aquatic excursion. The owner, who was on board, looked the picture of despair. $40,000, to say nothing of a large amount of prospective profits, had suddenly vanished. As for Ali, the Egyptian keeper, he was nearly frantic. He tore his hair and prayed to his strange gods. In a few moments however, the monstrous head of the huge beast appeared above the surface of the water. A general shout arose, and Ali was with difficulty prevented from jumping overboard in pursuit of his companion and beloved pet, while a boat was lowered, into which he jumped and rowed toward the beast, who swam about in an ecstasy of delight.

As the Egyptian commenced calling him by familiar names, and at the sound of his voice the monster stopped, looked around, and seemed to wait for the boat to near him, but just as it approached within reaching distance, the hippopotamus gave a plunge, and once more disappeared, leaving a whirlpool of seething water to mark the spot where he had gone down. Nothing was seen of him now for a long time, and they were about giving him up for lost, when he suddenly made his appearance about 100 yards off, but nearer the shore than at first. Ali again rowed toward him, calling to him as before, but again the beast dodged him and dived to the bottom of the river. Ali now made a large circuit with his boat, in hopes of taking him by surprise as he came up to breathe, but as if aware of his intentions, the hippopotamus rose a long distance off and looked at his master cunningly, and with an expression which seemed to say, "No, you don't." For a third time Ali started in pursuit, with a result similar to that which had attended his other efforts to recapture his pet.

When he went down the third time, Ali paused, evidently completely puzzled, and seemingly overpowered by grief and despair. In a second, however, he seized the oars and rowed toward the steamer, "Try de tog," he shouted, as he came alongside; "gib me te dog!" A large mastiff, which had been trained to sleep in the cage of the hippopotamus, and for whom he had for a long time evinced much affection, had been keeping up a continual howling from the time his companion had escaped, was now loosened, and he instantly plunged into the river and swam after Ali as he moved off. In about a minute the hippopotamus again stuck his head out of the water, and on seeing him the dog gave a wild bark and swam in his direction very rapidly, Ali accompanying him in the boat. At last the dog reached the monster, and with a series of barks commenced swimming round the animal and finally struck out for the shore, the hippopotamus following.

The interest excited by this scene was intense, which continued to increase until the dog and hippopotamus reached the American shore. Ali was not long after, and the animal was no sooner on terra firma than the Egyptian, armed with a small rawhide, which he had taken with him, jumped on the beach, and going to the animal, spoke a few words in the Egyptian tongue, gave him a few smart cuts over his ponderous rump with the rawhide, and drove him without further difficulty to a place of safety, where he was once more secured, and the proper means adopted to have him brought to this city, where he now is, in fine condition, after his frolic beneath the waves.

NEW WESTMINSTER, SATURDAY, AUG. 15, 1863.

OBJECTIONS TO OUR AGRICULTURAL LANDS.

Many persons who have come from distant countries and have travelled over our principal roads have been sadly disappointed in finding so little of what they considered good agricultural land. In fact they, in numerous instances, pronounce farming to be quite impracticable in British Columbia. "There is nothing to be seen," they tell us, "but rocks, mountains and barren sandy plains, all alike destitute of vegetation." In returning this verdict upon the parts of the country which they have seen they are sometimes perfectly sincere, and find it hard enough to account for our persistence in maintaining that there is arable land in considerable quantities not only on the Lower Fraser and in the Similkameen and Thompson valleys, but also on the routes to the mines.

One reason why these persons are thus disappointed is that in judging the lands of this country they follow in most cases the same rules which hold in the different and varied countries from which they have come. The English farmer wants land free from trees and stumps, and stands aghast at the thought of clearing away a heavy growth of timber and then ploughing and harrowing among stumps. The Canadian or American, while not at all frightened by the timber is yet of opinion that "this Pine and Fir land won't grow anything worth while." He wants to see Hard Maple, Elm, Basswood and Walnut, growing upon the land, and then there would be reason to expect a rich soil. Both agree that those barren sand flats which lie from Lytton and Lillooet upwards are totally useless and at once write to their friends and tell them to beware of newspaper reports, as "all their statements regarding the agricultural resources of the country are base falsehoods." This has been done in more than a few solitary cases.

Now we wish to say a few words regarding objectors of the above school—and what we say will be understood and believed by all who have extensively observed the agriculture of this side of the continent. In their search for farming lands on this coast men must not be guided by the rules which apply in either Canada, England or the Eastern States, else they will come to wrong conclusions as some have already done, and in consequence selected the very poorest of our land as in their estimation the best. We have a different climate, a different soil, and different timber and grass—in fact everything is different but not necessarily inferior—and here nature produces widely different results from what she would under similar circumstances in some other countries.

From experiments tried and repeated we are in a position to affirm that the lands on the Lower Fraser, covered as they are with Fir and Pine, are capable under proper cultivation of producing very fair crops, and we would assure our English agriculturists that the timber really can be cleared away, and ploughing, sowing and reaping carried on among the stumps for a year or two if necessary and, more than that, it will pay too. What has been done many times in other countries can be done here by the same energy and perseverance. We are also in a better position this season than we were last to assert that all those plains and flats which abound in the upper country can be rendered profitable by the judicious application of water, which is generally to be had in abundance. To one walking or riding over them for the first time and with preconceived notions this may seem incredible; but the fact is now made so evident that it is absurd to deny it.

Some of the best farms in the Colony were a few years ago quite as unpromising as the worst of what still remains unreclaimed. On one side of the road you may frequently see fine fields of first rate crops, and on the other side nothing but sterility and unproductiveness. As an instance in point we refer to Lorenzo's ranch, concerning which a communication may be found in another column—a communication from a gentleman of reliability and practical judgment in these matters. It seems that whenever the soil has been properly irrigated and cultivated it produces good crops of almost every kind. This was partially established last year, but is now satisfactorily proven by experiments carried out in many different localities during the present season. In some cases, of course, the irrigation and cultivation have been imperfect or wrong time for planting chosen, which causes the crops to present a rather indifferent appearance.

In speaking of the farming lands between the Cascades and Cariboo we must, then, admit the necessity of irrigation in many places, and it is possible that this admission may deter some from selecting those lands for agricultural purposes. But we think it should deter no one. In no part of the world will men find land without some objectionable feature or circumstance connected with it, and it is the wisdom of the agriculturist not to seek for such a utopian thing, but to locate where he will have the fewest obstacles in the way of improving his farm, and at the same time the best return for his toil.

Place, then, the expense and labor of irrigation against those incurred in clearing and grubbing and it will be found that the former is not more than one third or one quarter of the latter. There are many places on the routes to the mines where from 100 to 500 acres of land can be found so situated that it could be systematically and thoroughly irrigated with very little expense or with a small portion of the labor required to clear away an average growth of timber. Add to this the fact that these flats are ready for the plough and harrow and the soil is easily cultivated, and also the very important consideration that when the produce is ready you have the best market in the world. But enough has already been said. Enlightened reason, all past experiments, everything—except the croaker—will bear us out in our oft-repeated assertion that any man who is really so disposed can find a farm in British Columbia, and by industry and perseverance make it pay handsomely. Those who have honestly tried it know the truthfulness of what we say, but some there are whom no evidence will convince.

ALL CURES MADE EASY!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts and Old Wounds.

No description of wound, sore, or ulcer can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst cases readily assume a healthy appearance when ever this medicament is applied; sound flesh springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested, and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

Piles, Fistulas and Internal Inflammation.

These distressing and weakening diseases may with certainty be cured by the sufferers themselves, if they will use Holloway's Ointment, and closely attend to the printed instructions. It should be well rubbed upon the neighbouring parts; when all obnoxious matter will be removed. A poultice of bread and water may sometimes be applied at bed time with advantage; and most scrupulous cleanliness must be observed. If those who read this paragraph will bring it under the notice of such of their acquaintances whom it may concern, they will render a service that will never be forgotten, as a cure is certain.

Rheumatism, Gout & Neuralgia.

Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and subduing pain in these complaints in the same degree as Holloway's cooling Ointment and purifying Pills. When used simultaneously they drive all inflammation and depravities from the system, subdue and remove all enlargement of the joints, and leave the sinews and muscles lax and uncontracted. A cure may always be effected, even under the worst circumstances, if the use of these medicines be persevered in.

Eruptions, Scald Head, Ringworm & other Skin Diseases.

After fomentation with warm water, utmost relief and speediest cure can be readily obtained in all complaints affecting the skin and joints, by the simultaneous use of the Ointment and Pills. But it must be remembered that nearly all skin diseases indicate the depravity of the blood and derangement of the liver and stomach, consequently, in many cases, time is required to purify the blood, which will be effected by a judicious use of the Pills. The general health will be readily improved, although the eruption may be driven out more freely than before, and which should not be promoted; perseverance is necessary.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps & all other Derangements of the Throat.

On the appearance of any of these maladies the Ointment should be well rubbed at least three times a day upon the neck and upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, as salt is forced into meat: this course will at once remove inflammation and ulceration. The worst cases will yield to this treatment by following the printed directions.

Scrofula or King's Evil and Swelling of the Glands.

This class of cases may be cured by Holloway's purifying Pills and Ointment, as their double action of purifying the blood and strengthening the system renders them more suitable than any other remedy for all complaints of a scrofulous nature. As the blood is impure the liver, stomach and bowels, being much deranged, require purifying medicine to bring about a cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs.	Chapped Hands.	Scalds.
Bad Breasts.	Contracted and Stiff Joints.	Sore Nipples.
Burns.	Elephantiasis.	Sore Throats.
Bunions.	Fistulae.	Skin Diseases.
Bite of Mosquitoes.	Gout.	Scurvy.
and Sand-Flies.	Glandular Swellings.	Tumors.
Coco-bay.	Lumbago.	Ulcers.
Chiego-foot.	Piles.	Wounds.
Corns (soft).	Rheumatism.	Yaws.
Cancers.
Chilblains.

Sold at the establishment of PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY 244, Strand, (near Temple Bar) London; and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilised world, at the following prices:—1s. 1ld., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s., 22s., and 33s. each Pot.

*. There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

Poetry.

The Dead.

The dead are everywhere!
The mountain side, the plain, and woods profound,
All the wide earth—the fertile and fair—
Is one vast burial-ground.

Within the populous street,
In solitary houses—in places high,
In pleasure's domes, where pomp and luxury meet,
Men bow themselves to die.

The old man at his door—
The unweaned child, murmuring in wordless song,
The bondman and the free, the rich, the poor,
All—all to death belong.

The sunlight gilds the walls
Of kingly sepulchres encrowded with brass:
And the long shadow of the cypress falls
Athwart the common grass.

The living of gone time
Builded their glorious cities by the sea,
And awful in their greatness, sat sublime,
As if no change could be.

There was the eloquent tongue:
The poet's heart, the sage's soul, was there;
The loving women with their children young,
The faithful and the fair—

They were, but they are not;
Sense rose and set, and earth put on her bloom;
Whilst man, submitting to the common lot,
Went down into the tomb.

And still amid the wrecks
Of mighty generations passed away,
Earth's honest growth, the fragrant wild-flower, decks
The tomb of yesterday.

And in the twilight deep,
Go veiled women forth, like her who went,
Sister of Lazarus, to the grave to weep,
To breathe in low lament.

The dead are everywhere!
Where'er is love, or tenderness, or faith,
Where'er is pomp, pleasure, pride—where'er
Life is, or was, is death.

THE INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL SOCIETY.

The following account of the organization of this new powerful association, respecting which we wrote a week ago, taken from the Overland
Mail may interest our readers:

"The prospectus was issued on last Monday afternoon of a most important undertaking—the "International Financial Society (Limited)." This project presents the most powerful combination of the kind known. The directors are
Mr. J. S. Morgan, of the firm of Peabody &
Co.; Mr. Herman Stern, of Stern Brothers; Mr.
Robert A. Heath, of Heath & Co.; Mr. John
Frederick Flemming, of Frederick Huth & Co.; Mr. W. E. Cuenteil, of Fröhling & Gosen; and Mr. Robert Benson, and Mr. Bonamy Dobree, junr. The relations established with the Continental Credit Mobilier societies of Paris, Spain, Italy and Amsterdam, and through them with all the first bankers in those places. The combination is thus one of European weight and importance, and must command immense influence. With regard to the nature of the operations to be carried on, it is stated that they "will not include ordinary banking or mercantile business," but that the object is simply "to assist and take part in financial and industrial undertakings, especially foreign loans, and enterprises possessing Government guarantees." Of the capital of $3,000,000, divided into 150,000 shares of $20 each, one third has been subscribed by the continental Credit Mobilier societies, and the great firms associated therewith, and the rest of the capital has been taken in London by the directors and their numerous connexions, with the exception of 40,000 shares, or $800,000. With the object of giving the English public an interest in the society, these have been specially reserved for general distribution. The new society has been received with an extraordinary degree of favor. The price opened at eight to ten premium, and touched eleven. A disposition has since shown, however, to press speculative sales of the shares, and the price has declined to 5½ to 5¾ prem. The list for the 40,000 shares reserved for the public was closed on Thursday at noon. The applications have reached a total of between 480,000 and 500,000 shares. In other words, the unallotted capital is applied for at least twelve times over."

DREAM OF A QUAKER LADY.—There is a beautiful story told of a pious old Quaker lady who was addicted to smoking tobacco. She indulged in this habit until it increased so much upon her that she not only smoked her pipe a large portion of the day, but frequently sat up in her bed for this purpose in the night. After one of these nocturnal entertainments she fell asleep, and dreamed that she died, and approached heaven.
Meeting an angel, she asked him if her name was written in the book of life. He disappeared, but replied, upon returning, that he could not find it. "Oh," she said, "do look again, it must be there." He examined again, but returned with a sorrowful face, "it is not there!" "Oh," said she, in agony, "it must be there! Do look again." The angel was moved to tears by her entreathes, and again left her to renew his search.
After a long absence he came back, with his face radiant with joy, and exclaimed, "We have found it, but it was so clouded with tobacco smoke that we could hardly see it!"—The woman, upon awaking, immediately threw her pipe away, and never indulged in smoking again.

THE SUFFERER'S BEST FRIEND.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

All Disorders affecting the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

These Pills can be confidently recommended as the most simple and certain remedy for indigestion, flatulency, acidity, heartburn, colic, constipation, and all the many maladies resulting from disordered stomach or bowels. In all diseases it is of primary importance to set the stomach right. These Pills are purifiers, alternatives, and strengtheners of the stomach. They may be taken under any circumstances. Though powerfully tonic, and satisfactorily aperient, they are mild in their operation, and beneficial to the whole system.

Weakness and Debility, Nervous Irritability.

The wholesale effect exercised by these admirable Pills over the blood and fluids generally is like a charm
in dispelling low spirits, and restoring cheerfulness.
Their general aperient qualities will fit them for a domestic medicine, particularly for females of all ages and periods of life. They never betray any disagreeable irritating qualities; they quickly eject all impurities from the system, and regulate every function of the body, giving wonderful tone and energy to weak and debilitated persons, while they brace and strengthen the nervous system in a most extraordinary manner.

To Regain Health, Strength and Vigour.

Whenever persons find themselves in that state termed a "little out of health," and there are so many causes
at work to shorten life, it is necessary that Holloway's Pills, the finest purifier of the blood ever known,
should be at once taken, as they not only rid both solids
and fluids of all morbid matters, but regulate all disordered actions, and strengthen the frame in a most extraordinary manner.

Old Coughs, Colds and Asthmatical Affections.

These Pills, assisted in their action by rubbing Holloway's Ointment very effectively twice a day upon the throat and chest, and keeping those parts covered with the preparation, will be found the most effectual remedy for asthma, coughs, colds, bronchitis, and influenza.
These remedies tranquilize the hurried breathing,
soothe the irritated air-tubes, and assist in dislodging the phlegm which stops up the air-passages. This treatment has proved wonderfully efficient in not only curing old settled colds, but asthma of many years standing, and even when patients who were in so bad a state as not able to lie down on their beds lest they be choked with phlegm.

Derangement and Distention of the Bowels, Flatulency, Diarrhoea
and Dysentery.

Any symptoms of the above complaints should be immediately met by appropriate doses of these Pills, according to the printed directions: delay may be followed by disastrous consequences. These Pills are a certain remedy for all the ailments of the alimentary canal, they secure the thorough digestion of the food, and set most kindly on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. As a household medicine they are unrivalled, and should always be at hand.

Very Important, of Costiveness
Beware.

Rarely but little notice is taken of costiveness, yet,
at certain periods, it is a sure sign that danger is near.
All who are seized with apoplexy and paralysis, have previously suffered from costiveness. In the former case the blood flies to the head, a small vein is ruptured on the brain, and we know the rest. Let wives counsel their husbands, and husbands their wives, never to go to bed a second night, if the bowels have not been properly moved during the day, particularly if they feel heavy and drowsy. A few gentle doses of these fine Pills will regulate the circulation of the blood, and all dangerous symptoms.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world
for the following diseases:—

Ague	Female Irreg-	Retention of Urine
Asthma	ularities	Scurvy, or King's
Bilious Complaints	Fever of all	Erythema
Blotches on the	kinds	Sore Throat

CARIBOO

EVERY PERSON SHOULD KNOW

THAT THE

Shortest, Best and Cheapest

ROUTE

CARIBOO MINES

IS VIA THE

YALE AND LYTTON

WAGON ROAD.

The chained distances on the Yale and Lytton Road are as follows:

From Yale to Boston Bar,	25 Miles.
" Boston Bar to Lytton,	32 "
" Lytton to McLean's,	47 "
" McLean's to Junction of Wagon Roads, ..	19 "

Distance from Yale to Junction, 124

COMPARE THE ABOVE

with the following distances set down by Lillooet
Shippers:

From Douglas to Lillooet,	110 Miles
" Lillooet to Junction,	47 "

Dist. from Douglas to Junction, 157 "

THE JUNCTION

is the point at which the Wagon Roads intersect each other, and where the Cariboo-bound traveller by the Yale-Lytton and Douglas-Lillooet routes MUST meet.
It will, therefore, be seen by the above figures that the traveller by YALE and LYTTON has

THIRTY-THREE MILES LESS TRAVEL

than if he went by the Douglas-Lillooet route.

Remember that on this Route there are NO PORTAGES where Goods or Animals may be detained.

Messrs. DUHIG, LANE, BLACK, and other Carriers of Merchandise, advertise to Carry Freight from Yale to Lytton

$20 per Ton Less than is or will be charged on the Douglas-Lillooet route.

The New and Splendid Steamer

RELIANCE!

CONNECTS WITH THE VICTORIA STEAMER

ENTERPRISE,

greatly reduced rates.

SHIPPERS

desirous of getting Freight through to Cariboo this season are advised to Shun the Douglas-Lillooet Route!

and are referred to the testimony adduced in the CRANFORD CASE, wherein witnesses have stated upon oath that 15, 20, or even 30 days is a REASON-ABLE TIME to convey Freight from Douglas to Lillooet!

Five Days Only are required to Carry Goods from Yale to Lytton,

and

SHIPPERS ARE ASSURED

that if Freight is carried from Douglas to Lillooet for Two Cents per lb.,

Carriers are prepared to Carry

FREIGHT FROM YALE TO LYTTON

WITH SAFETY AND DESPATCH, FOR

One Cent Per Pound!!!

All those who allow themselves to be crammed by Douglasites this year need expect no sympathy from the public if they get broke trying to get goods through that route.

Remember the Cranford affair; and steer clear of extortion and delays.

Travel the Yale and Lytton Wagon Road to the Cariboo Mines.

New and COMMODIOUS HOTELS have been erected at convenient distances along the entire length of the route, where FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATIONS for both man and beast are bestowed AT MODERATE RATES.

For CHEAPNESS, DESPATCH, EASE and SECURITY
